MEDIA ADVISORY – THURSDAY IN DAUPHIN COUNTY – Shapiro
Administration to Visit Jubilee Dairy to Highlight $971,000 RISE PA
Investment to Turn Farm Waste into Clean Energy

Middletown, PA – Tomorrow, Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) Secretary Jessica Shirley and Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture Secretary Russell Redding will visit Jubilee Dairy, LLC, a dairy farm and cheese producer to highlight the importance of the Reducing Industrial Sector Emissions in Pennsylvania (RISE PA) program for the agricultural and industrial sectors.

The Shapiro Administration will be investing $971,006 through the RISE PA program to help the farm install an anaerobic digester and a 0.2-megawatt combined heat and power system that will convert manure and animal scraps into biogas to generate electricity and heat for the farm.

RISE PA is a $396 million statewide industrial decarbonization grant program funded through the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's Climate Pollution Reduction Grants. Jubilee Dairy was among the first-round recipients of medium-scale and large-scale awards announced in April.
